Is it possible to reuse data?

You can reuse the data you have entered for a specific transaction. This will reduce the risk of errors and the time spent on entering data onto the system.

Is it possible to make transaction enquiries?

You can make enquiries and overview the status of both current and completed transactions at any time. You can also easily reuse the data by transmitting it to a spreadsheet.

Is it easy to use Business eBanking?

Business eBanking features icons with links to help and explanations on how to enter transaction data and fill in the fields.

How to log on

You can log on to Business eBanking through our website. Danske Bank updates Business eBanking regularly and automatically. This means that you always have the latest version.

Is it possible to have a demonstration?

Yes, we would be pleased to demonstrate the system on a non-binding basis. If you decide to start using the system, we will prepare an agreement and mandate forms for the employees who are to have access to the system. Once the contract and the mandate forms have been completed and duly signed, we will help you get started.
